AUTUMN BURSTS INTO COLOUR AS KABLOOM RETURNS FOR 2026

A celebration of colour, creativity and Autumn fun this Easter school holidays

Step into a world of colour and imagination as Tesselaar KaBloom, Festival of Flowers, returns this March, transforming the picturesque Dandenong Ranges into a breathtaking floral wonderland. Featuring over a million vibrant blooms spread across five acres, KaBloom invites visitors of all ages to wander through sweeping fields of sunflowers, salvias, marigolds and dahlias to name a few, planted in striking, large-scale designs that celebrate nature, art and creativity.

Designed as a joyful autumn outdoor escape for all, KaBloom offers far more than flowers. Guests can soak up panoramic views of the floral fields from the much-loved Ferris Wheel, enjoy roving entertainment and live performances, explore immersive garden spaces and discover a full program of activities designed especially for the Easter and school holiday period.

Children can run free through garden games and obstacle courses, join interactive workshops, meet whimsical characters and storytellers, and enjoy hands-on fun throughout the grounds. The festival also features a vibrant Market Faire showcasing handcrafted goods, a flower market brimming with fresh blooms to take home, and a diverse range of food trucks serving flavours from around the world.

With free parking, a relaxed open-air setting and something new to discover around every corner, KaBloom has become a must-visit autumn tradition for Victorian families. Each season builds on the last, with new floral designs, fresh experiences and evolving entertainment, ensuring no two visits are ever the same.

Paul Tesselaar, third-generation flower farmer of the Tesselaar family, says: "KaBloom is about creating a place where people can slow down, reconnect with nature and spend time together. Autumn is such a beautiful season in the Dandenong Ranges, and every year we look for new ways to surprise and delight our visitors. The 2026 festival continues to grow and evolve, and we can't wait to welcome everyone back for another unforgettable season."
